Tim Skaja Joins Corrections Technology Association Board of Directors

Veteran GTL technologist accepts leadership position ahead of association's annual conference

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Reston, Virginia – May 11, 2016 – Global Tel*Link (GTL), the leading provider of correctional technology solutions and an innovator in payment services solutions for government, today announced that Tim Skaja, Senior Vice President of Product Management and Service Delivery, has joined the board of directors of the Corrections Technology Association for a three-year term.

As an organization committed to advocating and leveraging technology in corrections, the CTA has a long history of promoting the exchange of information and leading the development of technological standards among federal, state, and local correctional agencies. Electing Skaja to a board post broadens the expertise of CTA's leadership team and supports its overall mission.

In his capacity as CTA board member, Skaja will be responsible for relationship management and outreach with the association's vendor members, planning the Technology Summit, and supporting the growth of emerging technologies in the corrections market.

"I look forward to working with the association and its members to promote the kind of technological innovation that helps administrators deliver economic value to taxpayers, introduces operational efficiencies for corrections officers, and improves inmates' quality of life," said Skaja upon assuming his new role with the CTA.

GTL is a Platinum Sponsor of the CTA and will be exhibiting in booth #502 at the CTA's Annual Technology Summit in Scottsdale, Arizona, May 15-18.
